Advisory Commitment

The purpose of the local advisory council would be to bring together a group of skilled volunteers to offer their input, ideas, and expert advice to the executive staff of the Georgia division of the EYE Club. This local advisory council will not have any legal or formal responsibilities, and will work directly with EYE Club Georgia executive staff to brainstorm, discuss, debate, and decide major organizational decisions, providing the staff with a fresh perspective. Georgia advisory council members will have the option of simply attending meetings to provide input and feedback, or serving a more active role by taking responsibility for specific tasks through participation in a sub-committee. Physical meetings will occur bi-monthly during the first year with additional correspondence taking place via phone and email. It will be the goal to limit advisory council meetings to a quarterly basis after at least the first two years, if not sooner, if possible. Each advisor is asked to make a commitment for a three year term of service and is provided with the option to renew their service for a second three year term. After six years of service, council members will be asked to take a one year leave before renewing their term as an advisor. Terms of service will begin immediately, and then commence annually August 1st.
